Meal Fundraiser Guidelines

How does a fundraiser meal work? Below are some guidelines and instructions about what to expect, how much help you'll need, how to dress and what to do. If you have questions, please feel free to call us.

Staffing your meal

We cook the meal – you provide help to seat your guests, serve the meal and clean the tables.

Dutch Valley Restaurant provides two servers to help organize your volunteers as well as enter the orders into our computer system.

The night of your event, volunteers that help with your meal may eat at Dutch Valley Restaurant for 40% off.
Limited to 10 persons.

How many people do you need?

We recommend that you have 10 volunteers. It works best if your staff is ages 14 or older. We also recommend that an additional 2 to 3 adults be on hand to help supervise your volunteers, particularly if they are young.

Dress Code

Try to look professional – wear a nice shirt or t-shirt with your group's logo. Pants (no shorts) and knee-length skirts or longer are recommended. Please wear sneakers – no open-toed shoes or heels.

When to arrive

Fundraiser meals usually start at 4pm and end at about 7:30pm. Please have your volunteers arrive about 45 minutes before it is time to serve.

Menu

To make things easier for your servers, we have a limited menu. We can provide you with copies of the menu before your fundraiser so you can be familiar with what is offered.

During the meal

Keep your guests happy – take orders, refill drinks, and remove any used plates from tables (especially if they have buffet), and clean and clear tables. Remember to have your servers send your guests to the bakery when they are done, because you will also receive 15% of those sales. And last but not least, have fun with your guests. They have come here to support you!

Before leaving, we ask that you clear all your tables, including the condiments.

Advertising and Promotion

Your organization is responsible for all advertising, promotion and invitations. Since your guests will enter at our Main Entrance at Dutch Valley Restaurant, you may place a sign at that entrance to promote your event.
